Titus 2:1-5 – Guidelines for Godly Living

My Story

1. When you were a child, who in the church was someone you really respected?

Digging Deeper

2. Paul tacitly suggests that everything in Titus 2:1-5 is appropriate for all Christians of any age. Yet, he still gives particular instruction to specific age and gender groups. Why are these things important for these groups?

3. What is Paul implying about the importance of mentors?

4. Why do you think Paul goes into such specific detail about how Christians should behave? What does this tell you about God's concern for our behavior?

Reflection

5. What quality Paul lists, for the group you fall into, catches your attention? Why?

6. Pick a quality from Paul's list that you would like to improve in. How can you work on that area of your life?

Taking the Next Step

Take time this week to prayerfully think about where you are at in your Christian walk. Consider whether you might benefit from seeking out a Godly mentor, or might bless someone else by offering to mentor them.
